BUILDING PAPER.

BUILDING PAPER.

Our Building Paper is now so extensively used that it hardly needs advertising; but there are probably many other persons, besides builders, who do not yet know of its merits, and what a slight addition it is to the cost of a building, where THE BEST lumber is used that is required without it, nor how much may be saved by using it in various ways INSTEAD OF lumber and plastering. For instance: In building, be prepared with this INSTEAD OF SEPARATING BOARDS, and then clap-board, and the WHOLE EXPENSE OF THE BOARDS, SAVED, while the building will be VERY MUCH WARMER, because it does not shrink and crack as it will. Or, if the strength of a building is required, as in a roof or floor, or for sound floors, deafening, as it does a great saving in lumber, as well as securing a much sounder job. Then, besides this, it is a fact that the whole cost of it is saved in a single season in the EXPENSE OF FUEL. We warrant that any one who investigates its merits and uses common sense, will not build a frame building without it. So one has ever seen it without being convinced of its utility and economy. It costs only from eight to twenty-five or thirty dollars, according to size, to cover any ordinary house on the four sides. It is used under siding, under shingles, under floors, and instead of plastering for an inside finish. Thousands have used it and testified to its advantages and recommend all to go and do likewise. It is the most universally popular article ever brought within the reach of rich and poor for building purposes.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY.

FRIDAY EVENING, Sept. 3.

The great movement in New York here at length seems successful in getting the currency of a few days ago back into circulation, and the prices of gold and produce have nearly reached the point which they were when the panic began. The extreme tightness of money has disappeared, and the demand for additional currency to move it is at all points being met with satisfactory promptness. How long it will continue, however, remains to be seen. Money is always tight when business is active, because a large portion of it is then employed in the form of bank credits, which, in case of exchange is always in readiness to be drawn out at a moment's notice. Whether the present abundance of currency will long continue depends upon the amount of bank credits which may be created. If they are kept within reasonable limits, the present easy condition of the money market will probably continue, but if they are unduly extended a stringency will set in, as long as the volume of our currency remains indestructible, as at present.

Exchange was lower to-day, the supply of grain and produce bills on the market having increased largely, and that of the bankers' bills drawn against for currency to send into the country obliging them to sell at a considerable discount. Sales were made at 109½@109¾ for sixty-day sterling, and at 110@110¼ for sight drafts. Gold was steady, opening at 133½ per cent, declining to 133¼ per cent, and closing at 133¼@133½ per cent. At the outside, bankers are selling at par and taking of their balances at 1-16 to ⅛ off on New York bills, and ⅛ to ¼ off on Philadelphia drafts.

The following letter gives dealers' quotations for buying and selling government bonds, local stocks, and gold and silver coin. The rates for the various small-sized interest periods of the United States bonds are also given.

[Table: Buying. Selling. — 6s of 1881, January and July; 6s of 1881, March and September; 6s of 1881, May and November; 6s of 1881, January and July; 6s of 1881, March and September; 6s of 1881, May and November; 6s of 1881, January and July; 6s of 1881, March and September; 6s of 1881, May and November; 6s, Central Pacific; 6s, Union Pacific; 6s, Sinking Fund; 6s, Land Grant; 6s, Funded Debt; 6s, Local Debt; 7-30s, First Series; 7-30s, Second Series; 7-30s, Third Series; Compound Interest Notes, June; Compound Interest Notes, July; Compound Interest Notes, August; Compound Interest Notes, October; Compound Interest Notes, November; Compound Interest Notes, December; Gold; Silver; Quarters; Dimes.]

The following is a correct statement of the [illegible] of the First National Bank of Chicago at the close of business on the 31st day of August, 1869:

[Table: RESOURCES. — Loans and discounts; Overdrafts; U. S. bonds to secure circulation; U. S. bonds to secure deposits; U. S. bonds and securities on hand; Other stocks, bonds, and mortgages; Due from approved reserve agents; Due from other National Banks; Due from State Banks and bankers; Real estate, furniture, and fixtures; Current expenses and taxes paid; Premiums paid; Checks and other cash items; Exchanges for Clearing-House; Bills of other National Banks; Fractional currency; Specie; Legal-tender notes; U. LIABILITIES. — Capital stock paid in; Surplus fund; Undivided profits; National Bank notes outstanding; State Bank notes outstanding; Due to other National Banks; Due to State Banks and bankers; Dividends unpaid; Individual deposits subject to check; Demand certificates of deposit; Certified checks; Total.]

Of the above amount of loans and discounts, $1,000,000 are secured by pledge of U. S. bonds, and $1,000,000 by pledge of stocks, bonds, and mortgages.

Of the above amount of individual deposits, $1,000,000 are subject to sight drafts, and $1,000,000 are on time certificates of deposit.
